Clinical & Professional Experience

Becky has over 20 years' experience as a neuro-physiotherapy practitioner, helping adult clients and their families manage the consequences of a wide range of issues resulting from stroke, spinal cord injury and head injury.

Becky has worked in a variety of settings, both NHS and private practice along the whole patient care pathway, from acute in-patient care and rehab through to community and care homes. She has a special interest in stroke and believes in applying individually designed exercise for long term management.

Becky is fully trained in the Bobath approach and has experience in spasticity management, vestibular assessment and treatment, orthotics, hydrotherapy, group exercise classes, functional electrical stimulation (FES), Saebo and the Mollii suit.

Becky incorporates the principles of pilates, yoga and normal movement into clinical practice. She takes a problem solving, practical approach to functional disability, developing bespoke treatment plans that evolve through constant clinical analysis.

Becky has practical skills and experience in all major aspects of physiotherapy.
